

Stronsay WTW Audit of Previous Actions June 2025

Stronsay WTW is a small treatment works serving the population of Stronsay, Orkney.

This audit was designed to verify the satisfactory completion of actions which were committed to by Scottish Water following DWQR's audit in January 2023.

Evidence was provided by Scottish Water ahead of the on-site audits and fully reviewed. In most cases the evidence, including on-site, was comprehensive.

DWQR identified three findings. Proposed interventions to address DWQR's findings, along with completion dates and any interim mitigations that will be put in place have been agreed with Scottish Water.

DWQR will monitor completion of agreed interventions, and may request evidence of completion or re-visit the site.